

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. PREFACE.

OWING to the want of a complete Catalogue, the Library of the North-China Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society has been hitherto practically inaccessible to the Public. The few students and savants—who were obliged to have recourse to it for their researches—had only for guides the somewhat meagre list of Books and Charts printed in the Council's Report for the year 1865, the manuscript list of the books forming the collection of Mr. Wylie and the memory of the Librarian.

This Catalogue will show the poverty of the Library and probably induce public-spirited men to add to its value by presenting works which they may have thought of no interest or already in the collection. Libraries begin to make real progress only when their contents are well known and their object well determined. Mr. Wylie's Library¹ served as the nucleus of a good series of works on China ; and its 718 volumes or pamphlets, added to those already in the possession of the Asiatic Society, formed a collection of standard works on the East numbering about 1,300 volumes²

However valuable this collection may be, its deficiency is very great ; and many a volume which an Orientalist ought to find is sought in vain through the pages of the Catalogue. Works of reference, which, whatever is the specialty of a Library, should always have some place on its shelves, are also sadly conspicuous by their absence. Now, that the paucity of our resources is known, no doubt people will come forward

1. The Books belonging to the Wylie Library are designated in the Catalogue by an asterisk *

2. These figures do not include the 1,023 Chinese volumes of Mr. Wylie and the Transactions of learned Societies and Periodical Publications which form one of the most important classes of the Library.

and help us to fill the blanks, unfortunately too numerous. Let every one bear in mind that nothing is to be rejected :—a pamphlet, a newspaper, nay a handbill, which to the ordinary reader is no more than a valueless scrap of paper, may become, in the hands of the searcher, the means of an important discovery.

One word more. Some notes have been added to the description of the works—whether they will prove useful will be best judged by those who may have to go through the Catalogue. But in Shanghai, where the saying “Time is Money” is perhaps truer than in any other place in the world, it has been thought that by reference to them much time could be saved. Biographical Dictionaries and Biographical Treatises, Catalogues of Libraries and Booksellers, and especially the Catalogue of Klaproth’s Collection, the classification of which has been adopted by the compiler, at least in its principal divisions, supplied the materials for those notes. The divisions will be found perhaps too numerous, but it must not be forgotten that this is only the skeleton of a Library and that some room must be provided for future acquisitions.

Barthélemy d'Herbelot was born in Paris in 1625 and died in 1695.

Claude de Visdelou, was born in Brittany the 12th of August 1656. He joined the Society of Jesus in 1670 and came to China in 1687. He was appointed the 12th January 1708 Apostolic Vicar of Kouei-Tcheou and later on Bishop of Claudiopolis. The part he took in the quarrels which divided the various religious bodies in China at that time and the support he gave to Cardinal de Tournon sent by the Pope as a Pacificator compelled him to leave China the 24th June 1709. P. Visdelou then retired to Pondichéry where he died the 11th November 1737.

P. Visdelou was one of the six Missionnaires selected to go to China in 1684. They embarked in March 1685, went to Siam, and arrived in China in 1687. His fellow companions were P. P. Jean de Fontaney (b. 17 Feb. 1643—S. J. (1658)—date and place of death unknown.) Jean François Gerbillon (b. at Verdun 21 Jan. 1654—S. J. 1670—d. at Pekin 1707.) - *532 Lettres au R. P. Parrenin, Jésuite, Missionnaire à Pékin; contenant diverses questions sur la Chine. Nouvelle édition, par M. Dortous de Mairan. Paris, Imp. Roy. 1770, 8°

"M. de Mairan.... fut un des premiers de ce siècle, qui manifesta ces doutes sur l'origine des Chinois, dans sa lettre au P. Parrenin, Jésuite Missionnaire à Pékin, en 1734. Il avoue que la première idée, que les Chinois pourraient être une colonie des Egyptiens, lui était venue de l'Hist. du Commerce et de la Navigation des Anciens, par le savant M. Huet Evêque d'Avranches, qui jette en passant cette proposition, comme un doute." La Réponse du P. Parrenin à M. de Mairan, du 18 Septembre 1735, se trouve insérée dans le vingt-quatrième volume du Recueil des Lettres édifiantes. Mémoires concernant les Chinois. I—vi-vii.

P. Dominique Parrenin was born at Grand-Bussey, near Pontarlier (Diocese of Besançon) 1st Sept. 1664, joined the Soc. of Jesus in 1682, and died at Pekin the 27th Sept. 1741.

- *781 An historical and geographical Description of Formosa, an Island subject to the Emperor of Japan by George Psalmanaazaar, a Native of said Island, now in London. 2nd ed. London, 1705, 8°

First Edition—London, 1704, 8°

The author of this literary forgery, George Psalmanaazaar, (an assumed name) was born in the South of France about 1679 and died in 1763. He wrote an article on the island of Formosa for the "Complete System of Geography" published in 1747 as a sort of reparation for the fables he had formerly printed—an Essay on Miracles and several other works. After his death were published "Memoirs of * * * *", commonly known by the name of George Psalmanazar, a reported native of Formosa, written by himself, London, 1705, 8°

His work on Formosa was pub. in Dutch in 1705, 8°, and in French n. d. and 1739, 12°
